REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Claims 1-44 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The applicant's Appeal Brief was received 12/6/2004. The Examiner finds the applicant's arguments made within to be persuasive concerning the applied prior art and the present invention.

Per independent claims 1, 23, and 27, the prior art does not teach or reasonably suggest in combination the geospatial database management system including the data of objects being stored at a lane-level resolution in the database as claimed. The applicant's arguments make clear the difference between the resolution of the data stored in the geospatial database and the mere accuracy of the conventional data found in the prior art systems. Furthermore, while a further search of the prior art did reveal references which teach lane-level resolution of roads and objects for use in a geographic database (see for example Wilson et al. (US006385539B1), Chojnacki et al. (US006366851B1), and the article by Singh, D. et al., "Autonomous Vehicle using WADGPS", Proceedings of the Intelligent Vehicles '95 Symposium, September 25-26, 1995, p. 370-75), those references do not teach the claimed features of processing and returning queries to a driver assist subsystem in substantially real-time. For example, Chojnacki teaches that the geographic database will be a "primary" database from which smaller portions will be parsed out to be used in different applications, either on individual storage means, e.g. CD-ROMs, or in other databases stored on computers (see generally, columns 4-5).

Claims 2-22, 24-26, and 28-43 serve to further define the invention of claims 1, 23, and 27 over the prior art.

Claim 44 was indicated as containing allowable in a previous Office Action (see page 9 of the Office Action mailed 5/21/2004) and has now been amended into independent form.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
